

Marsh Community Connections

All the plants and animals in a habitat are connected to each other, we call this a community.

As you watch the video write down examples of each type of connection.

Food Chain

i.e. Foxes eat mice

Shelter/Protection

i.e. A dead log provides shelter for a salamander

Cleaning Service

i.e. Vultures help to keep the field clean by eating dead animals

Nursery

i.e. Pine tree provides a great place for an Owl to build it's nest
